Denver CPA Firm, Holben Hay Husman, Announces Name Change to Holben Hay Balzer CPAs, LLC

The Denver CPA firm, Holben Hay Husman, has changed its name to Holben Hay Balzer CPAs, LLC (HHB) effective immediately. As Sheila Balzer's influence in the business community, the profession and the firm has continued to grow, the firm's partners have agreed to replace Ned Husman's name on the firm masthead with Sheila's. Balzer had been with Husman & Company since 1994, prior to its merger with the Holben firm in 2001.

Denver, CO - June 21, 2010 – The Denver CPA firm, Holben Hay Husman, has changed its name to Holben Hay Balzer CPAs, LLC (HHB) effective immediately. The announcement is made by William Holben, CPA, Managing Partner of HHB, who says, “As Sheila Balzer's influence in the business community, the profession and the firm has continued to grow, the firm's partners have agreed to replace Ned Husman's name on the firm masthead with Sheila's. We congratulate Sheila on her many accomplishments, as we recognize her in our new company name.”

Balzer had been with Husman & Company since 1994, prior to its merger with the Holben firm in 2001. She specializes in audits for credit unions, pension plans, not-for-profits and family-owned businesses; plus taxation.

Further, Balzer has been an active member of the Colorado Society of CPAs (CSCPA) since 1997. She is Past Chair of the Society's Careers in Accounting Committee, member of the Leadership Council, and Past President of the Educational Foundation. Balzer is a Magna Cum Laude graduate of the University of Denver with a Bachelor of Science in Accounting and a Master of Accountancy.

“Having been affiliated with Ned Husman's firm since 1994 and the Holben firm for the past ten years, it's extremely gratifying to now have my name on the company. I'm honored to join Bill Holben and Craig Hay in directing the future growth of our firm.” Balzer says.

Additionally, Balzer is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and its Group of 100 Leadership Council. She serves as Chairman, Business Curriculum Advisory Committee, Chatfield Senior High and Columbine High School; Alumni Representative, University of Denver School of Accountancy; Past Member, Board of Directors, Denver Women's Society of Certified Public Accountants; and a girls' softball coach.

"Holben Hay Balzer is different from other firms - we understand it is planning that contributes most to our client's success. We focus first on planning and consulting, then complete the process with the preparation of tax returns and financial statements or the external auditing process," Holben explains.

The Holben firm acquired Husman & Company in November 2001. Husman & Company formed in 1979 as Bretzlauf & Husman Inc. Predominantly an audit practice, Husman & Co, formerly a member of the Private Companies Practice Section of the Division of CPA Firms of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, served a large client base including Credit Unions and Homeowner Associations.
